

THEMIS

Your judgment. With more time to use it.

AI that takes on the slow work behind legal advice.

Built around the lawyer.

Brian Harris, Founder / September 2026

The company needs a decision. Preparation consumes the lawyer's day

THE REQUEST

“Can we ship Friday?”

A new product. An unclear data use.
A deadline that will not move.

WORK BEFORE THE ADVICE

Search for the relevant rules.
Read and compare the sources.
Pull facts from the documents.
Prepare a usable first draft.

That work is necessary. The business value comes from what the lawyer does with it.

A business question becomes a concrete decision

REQUIRED WORK

Select the customer reauthentication path

Stage: Waiting on your judgment. Brian Harris must act next: Select the customer reauthentication path

Matter at a glance

Relay is moving about 280,000 customers from credential-based bank connections to OAuth and bank APIs. Product prefers to let existing connections continue until a bank requires reauthentication, while Growth wants to use two years of transaction history for card and lending offers. The current consent does not clearly disclose these uses or set a deletion period after disconnection. Legal guidance is needed before the aggregator contract renews on September 15.

Question to resolve

Should Relay let existing bank connections continue until each customer must reauthenticate, or require all 280,000 customers to reauthorize within 90 days? In either case, should marketing and lending uses require separate consent, and should disconnected-account data be deleted after 30 days?

RELAY DEMO MATTER

A bank-data migration.
An unclear consent.

When should customers
give permission again?

Themis puts the question in front of the lawyer.

Actual prototype capture, September 2026. Fictional demo data.

A draft the lawyer can judge and use

RELAY / DRAFT DECISION NOTE

Proposed path

Continue existing disclosed uses during the migration.
Seek permission for new marketing or lending uses separately.

Conditions to resolve

Set the migration period. Approve the consent copy.
Confirm deletion and contract terms.

Abridged seeded demo content. Proposed advice remains separate from a recorded decision.

Themis works the way you work

A strong junior associate learns how the partner wants the work done.

YOUR INSTRUCTIONS

“Start with the answer. Show the sources.
Give me a short note for the product team.”

THEMIS ADAPTS

Your preferred depth and format.
Your working methods.
Your business priorities.

Design thesis. Editable preferences and agent instructions exist in the prototype; effortless adaptation is the pilot goal.

One lawyer. A company's worth of questions

INITIAL BUYER

Solo general counsel or a 1–5 lawyer team

Start with product and regulatory questions at technology and fintech companies.

Proposed initial segment. Interview signals support the need; paid demand remains to be tested.

THE BUYING MOMENT

A launch adds unfamiliar legal work.
The team has no junior support.
The backlog grows before headcount does.

on one live matter.

The opening is the whole job, done your way

GENERAL AI

Flexible thinking and drafting

Delegate a product question through research and a usable draft, with fewer instructions.

LEGAL PLATFORMS

Harvey, Legora, GC AI

Start with one product lawyer. Fit the investigation and work product to that lawyer's methods.

Win on total lawyer effort, including instructions, source checks, corrections, and the final draft.

Sell capacity back to the legal team

$500

per lawyer, per month

Proposed starting price

One seat to start. Expand with use.

VALUE TEST

One hour a week

At an assumed $250 per lawyer hour, that is about $1,000 of monthly capacity for a $500 subscription.

Measure time saved after checking and correcting the work.

Illustrative economics: 4 weeks/month. Capacity value is not cash savings. Price and benefit are unvalidated.

A focused entry into a $870M annual opportunity

145,000

estimated U.S. in-house lawyers
ACC analysis of 2024 employment data

MODELED U.S. POTENTIAL

$870M

145,000 lawyers × $6,000 per year

Initial segment scenario: 10–20% of those lawyers
14,500–29,000 seats, or $87M–$174M annually

Scenario, not a market forecast. Assumes full adoption at proposed pricing; initial-segment share is unverified.

The first sale starts with a real matter

01 Recruit through Brian's network

Target solo general counsel and product lawyers. Ask for one active matter.

02 Run a short, supported pilot

Use the lawyer's preferred format. Compare total effort with their usual tools.

03 Convert, then expand

Charge for continued use. Seek referrals and a second paid seat after repeat value.

First 90-day targets: 20 qualified conversations, 10 pilot lawyers, 5 paying lawyers. Proposed targets, not pipeline.

FOUNDER

I wanted to multiply what one lawyer can do

Useful work earns the next matter

FOUNDATION TODAY

Working local prototype
Four exploratory counsel interviews
Editable research and draft workflows

18-MONTH TARGETS

25 paying teams
50 paying lawyers
$300,000 annual recurring revenue

Each completed matter should make Themis more useful.
Apply the lawyer's corrections to how the next job gets done.

Targets: 60% start a second matter within 30 days; 25% less total lawyer effort on matched tasks. Not measured results.

More capacity for the lawyers building the business

$1.5M

Proposed pre-seed raise
18 months of focused execution

Themis takes on the preparation.
The lawyer has more room to lead.

CAPITAL TURNS THE PROTOTYPE INTO

A dependable product for real work
A founding technical team
A path to paying customers

Themis brings intelligence at scale.

The lawyer brings judgment

Themis brings	The lawyer brings
Speed and capacity	Business and human context
Research and analysis	Experience and wisdom
Persistent memory	Values and risk tolerance
Questions and alternatives	The choice of path
Accurate, well-supported work	Ownership of the decision

More capacity for the work only the lawyer can do.

Trust is earned by how the product behaves.

Themis should feel like a capable colleague whose conduct makes the lawyer stronger.

01 Humble, not performative.

It shows uncertainty and does not pretend that ambiguity has disappeared.

03 Present, not intrusive.

It is available throughout the matter without taking control of the decision.

05 Supportive, not substitutive.

It strengthens the lawyer's judgment instead of presenting itself as the legal authority.

02 Curious, not merely declarative.

It asks the question that exposes the missing fact or untested assumption.

04 Persistent, not forgetful.

It carries context forward so the lawyer does not have to reconstruct the matter each time.

06 Faithful, not revisionist.

It records the lawyer's decision without silently turning a model recommendation into that decision.

This is what it means for Themis not to be a soulless product: its values appear in repeated, observable behavior.

INVESTOR IMPLICATION

These behaviors turn the emotional promise into product requirements. If they remain consistent across models and matters, the ethos can become part of the user experience rather than branding placed on top of it.

A focused 18-month plan

Use of funds	Budget
Founder and technical delivery	$900,000
Customer development	$180,000
Models, research and infrastructure	$150,000
Secure pilot delivery and operations	$120,000
Contingency	$150,000
Total	$1,500,000

WHAT THE PLAN MUST PROVE

Lawyers return.
They pay for continued use.
Total effort falls.
Delivery costs support the price.

Shared work and automatic adaptation require further product development.

Proposed budget and milestones for investor discussion. Final staffing and financing terms remain open.
